

Data Safety

December 7, 2021

Cyber Holiday Quez | Data Nuggets | December 2021

[Story Time] If I was to purchase a hard disk(s) from people claiming that they're new and haven't been used in an attempt to make a profit or resell it at the original price, and I, on the other side, try to treasure-hunt the hard disk by attempting to recover deleted data on them to try and see if I'll be able to find important data off the now bought hard disk(s)[Questions]:

0.0.1 Between the two (buyer & seller), who do you think is wrong? if none, why? [support your answers]

-
-
-

0.0.2 One thing you've learnt out of this question (be it from buyer or sell me this pen people:-)?

-
-
-

0.0.3 How do you intend to protect your data moving forward?

-
-
-

0.0.4 Do you know the difference between deleted data and erased data?

- [ ] Tick, if you've finally done the research and understood the difference.

0.0.5 Do you think data can be permanently erased?

-

0.0.6 How likely are you to enlighten your friends about what you've learnt? (use a scale of 10: Highly, 5: Only if they intend to pay me. 1: They'll from there mistakes)

-

0.0.7 What's the best way to permanently ERASE data? note down the ways, tools & or methods.

-
-
-
-
-

That's all for now! Reach me Out on Twitter if you have any question. @Stevemats